

Parenting "Just Right" or "Active"

Most parents do not use just one style. Sometimes we are a little "too hard" and sometimes we are a little "too soft." Sometimes we are "just right." We will be better parents if we try to use the "just right" style more and more. It is OK if we make mistakes. We learn from our mistakes. Our children learn when they make mistakes, too.

01

Understand your child needs
rules.

02

Know that sometimes
children make mistakes; this is how they learn.

03

Parents make mistakes too, and
learn from them.

05

Give children lots of love and
encouragement.

04

Let your child make some choices.
