

Parenting "Too Hard"

This is a style that worked well with our grandparents, but it doesn't work well today. When parents use the "too hard" style today, their children become angry. They do things just to make their parents angry, too. When they become teenagers they often rebel.

01

Too many rules.

02

Not letting your child make many choices.

03

Punish your child a lot.

05

Refrain from giving your child much in the way of hugs, kisses, or encouragement.

04

Parents
that want to control
everything.
